‘The tutors were friendly, knowledgeable, and always happy to answer my questions, but what really stood out to me was how good they were at reading the room and helping people who were stuck. Not everyone is comfortable raising their hand and asking for help, but the tutors made sure the whole class understood everything.’

Vinnie

-  Automotive
-  Automotive Engineer Apprentice

As soon as Vinnie got his license, he was always out on the road. His appreciation for cars continued to grow, so when he came across the automotive programmes at WelTec, he went for it.

Vinnie qualified for a Māori and Pasifika Trades Training scholarship (MPTT), which was not only a huge help financially, it was also a big motivator. “Knowing that I was being invested in inspired me to keep going and achieve my goals.”

The Tamaiti Whāngai (Māori support) team were indispensable – providing guidance whenever Vinnie needed it, whānau support, and even providing a basket of essential items during COVID.

Vinnie found the tutors went out of their way to make sure everyone got the help they needed. “What really stood out to me was how good they were at reading the room and helping people who were stuck.”

Vinnie's passion for cars really kicked into gear during his time at WelTec. His tutor put his name forward for an apprenticeship at Capital City Motors, and when they offered him the role, it was an easy choice.

Vinnie now works as an Automotive Engineer Apprentice in the Ford Service Department. The best part of the job is seeing the smile on a customer's face after he's repaired all the faults he's found, and they're able to get back on the road.
